

En souvenir de Henri Durgniat

A black and white photograph of a misty landscape. In the foreground, there is a large, leafless tree with a complex, branching structure. Its reflection is visible in the calm water below. In the background, several other bare trees stand in a line, their forms softened by the mist. The overall atmosphere is quiet and melancholic.

1995 - 1er août - 2015

On ne perd jamais
ceux que l'on aime,
On les garde avec soi
dans son coeur.