

We are deeply saddened by the death of

J. Quincy Hunsicker

(May 22, 1936 – March 14, 2017)

McKinsey Director Emeritus

Quincy Hunsicker was the Office Manager of McKinsey & Company Switzerland for 15 years and played a decisive role in the development and success of our firm in Switzerland and far beyond. He was also the Office Manager of McKinsey's Tokyo and Milan offices and served on the firm's highest decision-making bodies.

A modest man and inspirational public speaker, Quincy was a wonderfully people-oriented person whose office door was always open and who promoted a real sense of togetherness within our office community. We grieve at the passing of a tremendous individual who, throughout his life, provided inspiration and counsel to his many colleagues and friends. His legacy will continue to be felt throughout our office for a very long time to come. Our thoughts are with his wife and his family at this sad time.

Felix Wenger
Managing Partner
McKinsey & Company, Switzerland